

Leadership Excellence Coaching

Coaching is now considered the most effective way to improve performance and results. The Seeley Group coaching philosophy is simple: identify areas of development, assess the impact, discover solutions, implement the plan and monitor progress. Based on a catalytic model, Leadership Excellence Coaching will help develop your leadership capacity, help you integrate coaching into your leadership practice and accelerate both your personal and professional success.

This is not a substitute for therapy and it's not business strategy; you do the heavy lifting; we will guide you by asking questions to facilitate you finding solutions to your challenges and road-blocks. Through the coaching process, advice and guidance will be offered to empower change and skill development. We will provide personal support, objectivity and the constructive feedback you require to achieve success.

Leadership Excellence Coaching is an ongoing process customized to meet your specific needs to achieve your vision for your leadership and personal success. This experience will help identify and remedy the underlying causes of behaviour that may be blocking your ability to achieve achieving higher levels of success. You will be supported while you move forward with conscious action to achieve your goals.

The tools used are based on The Human Element® Behaviour Preferences Model, Jack Canfield Success Principles and numerous other tools and concepts proven to help individuals breakthrough to higher levels of success.

Recognizing change is a process, not a one time learning event, a minimum six-month commitment is required. Over the six months* two telephone conversations will be scheduled each month; these calls last between 45–60 minutes. There will be work required between calls to ensure tools are integrated and practiced outside of the coaching calls. To provide additional support with situations and questions that come up between calls, unlimited e-mail contact is encouraged.

Although the process will be customized to suit specific needs during this process we will help you:

- Set clear intention for the process
- Learn to reflect in, on and for action to create the results you desire
- Learn how to effectively communicate with others in your personal and professional life
- Create a balanced approach to success
- Move forward toward creating the success you desire

Investment:

$4,500 + GST (where applicable)
payable after initial session

* Weekly calls are available
please ask for a customized quote.

Materials Included

- Assessments
- Materials
- Workbook

 materials shipped after the initial session

For more information:

Kathleen Seeley, Phone: 250.832.2245
E-mail: Kathleen@theseeleygroup.com